

NiRo MG-Hole-In-My-Heart

I saw you standing there, looking at yourself in the mirror. Checking your style while waiting for your date. Then you gave me a kiss and I knew you'd start a new world on your shoulders.

Too much worries, probed you in faith, and made you mad. But I still recall when those papers met. There's a hole in my heart, which can only be filled by you.

And I knew from the start. Which can only be filled, which can only be filled by you.
