

NiRo MG-Leaving-Your-Game

I didn't want to look in the mirror My eyes were so sad, they drove me to tears Been trapped in your prison for too many years Time to lift these problems and be free I can't wait to run, disappear from your gaze You nearly killed me, but I smile the same I can't wait to leave, I need my freedom But you lost control, so just let me go Your words that push me to roar I hate your laughter as I fall You enjoyed every moment as I felt But now it's clear that we weren't meant to be I can't wait to run, disappear from your gaze You nearly killed me, but I smile the same I can't wait to leave, I need my freedom But you lost control, so just let me go I'd rather look at the road, than look at your face And every word you told me Just push me away, now I'm driving away today I can't wait to run, disappear from your gaze You nearly killed me, but I smile the same I can't wait to leave, I need my freedom But you lost control, so just let me go I can't wait to run, disappear from your gaze You nearly killed me, but I smile the same I can't wait to leave, I need my freedom But you lost control, so just let me go
