

NiRo NV-One-Moment

One small grain of sand upon the earth It barely seems to matter when you see the shore There's so much more, a sea of pearls together One innocent kiss upon the cheek It doesn't seem to matter, then you realize There's no denying what you're after One resounding revelation With each day there comes a miracle One extraordinary moment Promises to grant the possible One inspired thought upon the page It really seems to matter Peace unto us all Begins the prayer we say forever One personal wish upon a star It hardly seems to matter Then your dream appears All through the years you still remember One resounding revelation With each day there comes a miracle One extraordinary moment Promises to grant the possible One important word within my heart It always seems to matter Love, the word is love Oh, the word is love Yeah, the word is love Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh The word is love
