I'm not good at showing my emotions Words don't come easy to me See, I'm not a sweet, sweet talker Don't force me to reveal my heart to you To me, I walk too many miles for you I love you the way you are Selfish to break it all But I need my love for you Selfish to break it all My feelings for you I told you sometimes I'm a bit of a loner Who's got the need to show affection at all But if that isn't what you need Oh, I will find a way to show you See, I walk too many miles for you I love you the way you are Selfish to break it all But I need my love for you Selfish to break it all My feelings for you I told you Selfish to break it all But I need my love for you Selfish to break it all My feelings Selfish to break it all My feelings I told you Selfish to break it all But I need my love for you Selfish to break it all My feelings for you I told you Selfish to break it all But I need my love for you Selfish to break it all My feelings for you Oh, so true, my feelings Oh, so true, my feelings Oh, so true
