

NiRo UW-Brand-New

Tell me what is hurting me right so bad, I just want to make sure we're always there. The feeling that was hiding through all these years, I don't want to say goodbye. I remember how this love all began, you and I were walking down in the sand.

I never thought we'd ever come quite this far, just wanna know who we are. You make me feel so brand new, can't get enough of you. You're making me ride so high, I don't know what we're into.

You make me feel so brand new, so in love when I'm with you. You're making me ride so high, in a love I can't deny. Now you leave me all in the dark alone, tell me where I'm heading to on my own.

I never thought this sweet love's gonna end, thinking how it all began. I remember how this love all began, you and I were two of a different kind. And every day we're making sweet love so right, putting all our worries aside.

You make me feel so brand new, can't get enough of you. You're making me ride so high, I don't know what we're into. You make me feel so brand new, so in love when I'm with you.

You're making me ride so high, in a love I can't deny. If we call this love forever, then we are meant to get this. So let's hold on to this chance for romance.

If we keep the magic going, and see where love is going. Let us love where the moment our eyes meet. Make me feel so brand new.

You make me feel so brand new, can't get enough of you. You're making me ride so high, I don't know what we're into. You make me feel so brand new, so in love when I'm with you.

You're making me ride so high, in a love I can't deny.
