I'm leaving you this morning There's nothing else I can do Just walk out that door And never come back Now you breathe while you talk See yourself on me and talk Not even when you beg on me Not even when you cry See yourself on me and talk Not even when you beg on me Not even when you cry See yourself on me and talk For the sun is rising Sitting in my heart And you won't even notice It's getting cold Now you breathe while you talk See yourself on me and talk Not even when you beg on me Not even when you cry See yourself on me and talk Not even when you beg on me Not even when you cry See yourself on me and talk See yourself on me and talk Not even when you beg on me Not even when you cry Baby, baby, baby, baby Baby, baby, baby Yes, oh, oh And sometimes it won't work out, oh There's gonna be a storm
