

NiRo UW-Another-Chance-For-Love

I've tried to keep your love by my side I wish I had another chance To make you feel the same Precious love of mine I couldn't feel your love Even though I tried so hard I'll never be the same For more than we still could see We were so in love before We should always find a reason for trying One more time, one more time Another chance for love I always knew inside That our love felt so precious But I had to go Cause I had felt so much pain Even though it hurts so much to leave Can you see the light? Love that seems so true And right, we should try again Oh yeah, you belong to me We were so in love before We should always find a reason for trying One more time, one more time Another chance for love There's no other sound For me as I see you Now that I'm in between us We can make it through I know we can make it through For the both of us There's more than just one reason for trying One more time, one more time Another chance for love Can we try? Yes, we wanna try again Another chance for love
