

NiRo MB-Day-Without-Sun

You feel like ice, in your look there is no fire
You feel like ice, in your heart there is no love anymore
You close the door to your soul
Emptiness grows up behind you
It feels like ice, more and more with every step you're away
I hate this day, it has begun
A day without sun
Even the birds and the noise of the street disappear
Green changed to grey, since you're away
I feel so cold and my heart cannot live without you
It feels like ice, the silence spreads so loud inside me
I realize, that there is really nothing that can warm me again
All is in vain, there's no word, no embers, no consolation
It feels like ice, there's no taste in it, nothing at all
I feel to fall, it has begun
A day without sun
Even the birds and the noise of the street disappear
Green changed to grey, since you're away
Please understand, I'm not ready to stay without you
It feels like ice, a day without sun
Even the birds and the noise of the street disappear
Green changed to grey, since you're away
Please understand, I'm not ready to stay without you
A day without sun is a lonely place
A day without sun where I can see your face
